AH, STATISTICS!

It has been stated that you can find statistics to back any statement. There is not a matter of such vital concern, it would be ludicrous to compare the various statements. It is not a matter of such vital concern, it would be ludicrous to compare the various statements. It is not a matter of such vital concern, it would be ludicrous to compare the various statements.

We have before us an article by the head of the reliable farm labor organization, which states that the cost of living is up 22 per cent since the start of the war and the weekly earnings of workers in manufacturing industries up 63 per cent. Chairman Davis of the War Labor Board states this while writing that the cost of living has continued "to hold wages to the general level of September 15, 1942." In his message to Congress in September a year ago the President stated that "Annual wage and salary disbursements have increased from $35,740,000,000 in 1939 to an estimated $75,000,000,000 in 1942. This represents an increase of 71 per cent."

It is the old army game. "First you see it, and then you pay for it." It is a game that you see it, and then you pay for it. It is a game that you see it, and then you pay for it. It is a game that you see it, and then you pay for it.

THE MINERS PAY BOOST

Regardless of what facts and figures might have been available to the government as a basis for the decision to grant a liberal wage increase to striking coal miners, the fact that the miners "got their" will appear on all papers to pay boost. Likewise, the fact that the miners "got their" will appear on all papers to pay boost.

Many people would fight inflation by cutting down what they compete for is getting. Many people would fight inflation by cutting down what they compete for is getting. Many people would fight inflation by cutting down what they compete for is getting.

THE BALKAN PROBLEM

The fighting going on between rival factions in the conquered territory of Yugoslavia is but an example of the perplexing problem of bringing order and peace to Europe. Many of the Balkan states there is no longer a basis for free government. Hatred and suspicion have been fanned.

hold of the situation with such vigor and courage that they turned the tide, and supplied the power necessary to help their allies suppress the warmongers who had tried to extend their power by conquest. It was a grand job for progress.

The second thought is that the United States and its allies after they had made a great mistake in failing to maintain the power they had gained. They had the chance to produce a peaceful world, and nation would have dared challenge that power if it had been exerted.

Gradually they allowed the power to slip out of their hands. So the world drifted steadily into war. The nations that wanted peace failed to take adequate steps to preserve that peace. The same thing could happen again, if our people are not careful to see to it that this time they shall not have fought in vain. Let us hope that the tremendous sacrifices being made in this war will not again prove so largely futile. Peninsula Enterprise.

RECOMMEND THAT STATE INCREASE TEACHER'S PAY

Richmond, Va., Nov. 10. Governor Darden and members of his Education Committee have unanimously agreed upon recommending an increase of $5,151,000 for the first year and $3,517,000 for the second year.

This increase, added to the localities share, it is estimated, would provide an average salary per teacher unit for the first year of approximately $1,200 and for the second year of approximately $1,250. The State would pay $480,000 for the first year and $517,000 for the second year.

It is also a violation of the law of the State which provides for the payment of salaries to teachers on a per capita basis. The State's present contribution per teacher unit is approximately $150.

Governor Darden still shuns race for Republican presidential nomination, despite big following.

PEOPLE WHO CAN PUT THINGS AROUND

Appomattox is indeed fortunate in having a large number of citizens who have the enterprise and ability to "put things around."

When it is necessary to make a drive for some worthy project, we have a fine group of prospective workers who can step and "get the job done." One of the big problems in many towns is that of finding people who are willing to take the lead in getting needed things done.

Many people would fight inflation by cutting down what they compete for is getting.

ARMISTICE DAY

Since the present war broke out, the celebration of Armistice day, November 11, may have lost something of its significance. On that day the world had climbed to a higher level, in which war was to be abolished, and the world was headed for something like permanent peace. Those hopes were blasted less than 21 years later, a new war began that has been far worse than the previous one.

Armistice day brings two contrasting thoughts. The first is that American service men and the military organization and the people as a whole, did a marvelous job in the victory they won in 1918.

It had been thought they were a peace loving nation, that could not fight. They were far from being ready for war, but they took
